

Game Concept: "LifeQuest"

Overview:

"LifeQuest" is a mobile game using a map feature inspired by Pokémon GO, where players complete real-world quests to earn Quest Coins (in-game currency). These coins can be redeemed for real-world rewards like coupons, discounts, or subscriptions (e.g., 1500 Quest Coins for a Spotify subscription). The game targets two distinct groups with customized quests to combat loneliness, restore purpose, and encourage activity.

Core Features:

- Geolocation Quests: Players visit local places, meet others, or complete tasks tied to their location.
  - Reward System: Quest Coins earned from quests can be spent on practical rewards to enhance daily life.
  - Social Integration: Encourages interaction through group quests (e.g., coffee meetups with other players).
  - Progress Tracking: A UI showing completed quests, coins earned, and redeemable rewards.

Audience-Specific Design

1. Recently Laid-Off (Unemployed) Individuals

Goal: Reduce loneliness, rebuild confidence, and support job re-entry while keeping them socially engaged.

Key Issues Addressed: Loss of workplace social networks, purpose, confidence, and motivation, leading to isolation.

Quests:

| Quest Type         | Description                                                           | Quest Coins Earned | Loneliness Solution                          |
|--------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| Daily Wake-Up      | Set a wake-up time and check in via the app daily.                    | 50/day             | Restores routine, combats isolation inertia. |
| Motivational Media | Watch a TED Talk, listen to a podcast, or view a motivational movie.  | 100 each           | Boosts morale, encourages reflection.        |

Resume Improvement Feature:

- How It Works: Players upload their resume to the app. An AI tool (e.g., integrated ChatGPT-style prompts) suggests improvements based on their field:
  - Non-Tech Example: "Highlight transferable skills like teamwork or problem-solving from your last role. Try this prompt in an AI tool: 'Rewrite my retail experience to emphasize customer service skills for an administrative role.'"
  - Tech Example: "Add specific tools or projects. Prompt: 'Enhance my resume for a junior developer role with Python experience.'"
- Reward: 200 Quest Coins for uploading, plus tips to boost confidence and employability.

Rewards:

- Practical: Spotify/Netflix subscriptions (1500 Coins), grocery coupons (1000 Coins), coffee shop discounts (500 Coins).
- Job-Related: LinkedIn Premium trial (2000 Coins), online course discounts (e.g., Coursera, 2500 Coins).
- Motivational: Self-help book vouchers (1200 Coins).

UI Design Proposal:

- Home Screen: Map showing nearby quests (e.g., "Visit Local Park," "Career Fair 5 miles away").
  - Quest Log: Tracks daily wake-ups, media consumed, and outings with a progress bar.
  - Resume Tab: Upload section with AI tips displayed post-analysis.
  - Rewards Store: Visual catalog of redeemable items with Coin costs.

Promotion Strategies for Recently Laid-Off People

1. Partnerships with Unemployment Services:
    - Collaborate with government unemployment offices or job centers to promote "LifeQuest" as a free tool to stay motivated and connected during job searches. Distribute flyers or app codes with unemployment benefits packets.
  2. Social Media Campaigns:
    - Target LinkedIn and Reddit (e.g., r/Layoffs, r/Unemployment) with posts like: "Laid off? Turn downtime into connection with LifeQuest—earn rewards while beating loneliness!" Include testimonials from players who've rebuilt confidence.
  3. Career Fair Booths:
    - Set up booths at career fairs (a quest in the game) to demo the app, offering instant 100 Coin sign-up bonuses. Hand out QR codes linking to the app store.
  4. Influencer Outreach:
    - Partner with career coaches or job search influencers on YouTube/TikTok to showcase how "LifeQuest" supports laid-off individuals with resume tips and social quests. Sponsor a video like "5 Ways to Stay Positive After a Layoff."
  5. Corporate Layoff Support:
    - Pitch to companies conducting layoffs to recommend "LifeQuest" as part of severance packages, positioning it as a wellness tool to ease the transition for ex-employees.

Collaboration for Retirees

- Pre-Retirement Outreach: Partner with HR departments or retirement planning firms to introduce "LifeQuest" to employees nearing retirement. Offer it as a fun, free activity to transition smoothly, with a pitch like: "Retire with purpose—join LifeQuest for adventure and friends!"
  - Senior Centers & Communities: Work with local senior centers or retirement homes to promote the app via workshops, providing tablets for those less tech-savvy to try it out.

Why It Works

- Loneliness Focus: Both groups get quests that push them out of isolation—laid-off players rebuild networks and purpose, while retirees replace work ties with new experiences.
- Rewards Motivation: Real-world perks (e.g., Spotify, travel vouchers) incentivize participation, making the game practical and engaging.
- Scalability: The geolocation feature adapts to any player's location, with partnerships expanding reward options.
